

We want the truth!

If, as the Bible says, "the truth shall make you free," then this campus is a prison within whose wall of ignorance we are all being held captive.

All this year, and especially since Christmas, we have been bombarded by a deluge of vague truth, disguised truth, half-truth and untruth concerning matters of direct concern to our scholastic and social well-being.

The letters which appear on the next page are, we hope, the beginning of a violent reaction against the discord, confusion and mistrust which have gripped the campus. Though their subjects are varied, all the letters ask the same basic question—"What is going on around here?"

We witness results of the unrest every day: professors quit and are fired, and the college's pursuits of its stated aims is brought into question; the administration asks us to evaluate our faculty; anonymous letters criticizing college policies dot the campus; a nationwide dance craze is suddenly banned. All are examples of actions taken without explanations where they were needed.

The writers of the letters published here have distinguished themselves from their colleagues by employing legitimate means to state their opinions.

These people are to be congratulated. We have had enough of anonymity, enough of unexplained decrees, enough of rumor. Let us have a few simple, honest facts.

The letter from the officers of Delta Epsilon Sigma, though it was imprudent and inaccurate, pointed out the fact that a severe conflict of ideals exists among the faculty and administration. This fact is strongly reinforced by the letter from Mr. Farrell.

St. Joseph's is supposed to be a Catholic, liberal arts college. As such it should strive to teach its students in the light of the Christian tradition so that they will carry their beliefs into life. Now, if a materialistic, sense-based philosophy, denying the use of faith, is being taught here, even unwittingly, then the college is failing in its purpose.

It seems unlikely that the situation is as serious as this, but since we have heard only from those who hold the above position we have no choice but to be suspicious. Worse yet, we have no idea who to be suspicious of, since both the Academic dean and his assistant have refused comment on this serious problem. The entire atmosphere reeks of a general lack of agreement.

But it is not only the administration which keeps us in the dark. Last Saturday the Dean of Men abruptly banned the current dance craze, the "Twist," from the campus after it had been allowed for the entire year up until now. This dance, like so many of life's pleasures, is perfectly proper if employed correctly, and evil only when the dancer or spectator intends it as such. Surely the "Twist" as done here was not immodest. Yet it was banned and no reason given.

Then we have the students who ironically call themselves the "thinking students," or "angry young men." These students cannot be classified either as men or as angry, for if they were either they would have had enough conviction or enough passion for their assertions to bring them out into the open. Some of their charges were valid and others were absurd, but the writers brought discredit upon all by their anonymity. We need the truth out in the open.

This college was on the path to great days. But recently we have taken a wrong turn, and every day that the administration hides its motives and beliefs from the students and vice versa will make it harder for us to return to the right path. As has been said here before, if a college community is to prosper it must work as a unit. All the misunderstanding and conflict and secrecy we see about us prevent us from attaining this union. We will not be free to attain greatness until we know the truth.

Mid-year graduation scheduled for Jan. 28; list 42 candidates

Mid-year graduation exercises will be conducted by St. Joseph's college on Sunday, Jan. 28. The Very Rev. James P. Conroy will address the graduates and be presented the Alumni merit award.

Monsignor Conroy graduated from St. Joseph's in 1932. He attended St. Mary's of the West seminary at Cincinnati and was ordained in 1938. He has been active in and around the Fort Wayne diocese in journalism, broadcasting and youth affairs. Msgr. Conroy is the national director and founder of the "Fighting 69th," a national organization for Catholic high school students.

The Alumni merit award is given to alumni who have done outstanding work in their chosen fields of endeavor. Fr. Conroy earned the award by his extensive work with Catholic youth.

The exact number of graduates for this commencement is uncertain. Following is a list of 42 degree candidates who will make up the graduating class. Final decisions in some cases depend upon comprehensive exams, making up work, etc.

Philip M. Smith, B.S. in accounting; Arthur C. Zielinski, B.S. in accounting; Stephen M. Matokar, B.S. in biology; Frederic J. Martino, B.S. in biology-chemistry; Ruth N. Pitts, B.S. in elementary education; Francis A. Krupa, B.S. in general business.

William J. Kirwen, B.S. in management; Paul F. Larson, B.S. in management; Ted A. Limp, B.S. in management; Robert J. Madda, B.S. in management; F. Thomas Dobson, B.S. in marketing; Reginald D. Evans, B.S. in marketing.

Ernest T. Kolesiak, B.S. in marketing; Frank A. Lange, B.S. in marketing; Thomas J. Messer, B.S. in marketing; Charles G. Michna, B.S. in marketing; John Vincent B. Milas, B.S. in marketing; John J. O'Connor, B.S. in marketing.

Daniel J. Pesaresi, B.S. in marketing; Walter E. Piotrowski, B.S. in marketing; Michael R. Kraynik, Jr., B.S. in chemistry; Robert A. Dombro, B.S. in chemistry; Leo J. Navin, B.A. in economics; Gerald W. Hagerman, B.S. in elementary education; Emilie L. Koslow, B.S. in elementary education.

Robert L. Kaiser, B.S. in education; William M. Kennedy, B.S. in education; Walter M. Siodlaks, B.S. in education; John M. Klawitter, B.A. in English; Glenn R. Clausen, B.A. in English-journalism; Gerald F. Burrows, B.S. in geology; Richard D. Blackmore, B.A. in history; Elmer A. Nett, B.A. in history.

Richard L. Courtney, B.A. in mathematics-physics; Phil R. Harrington, B.A. in mathematics-physics; Robert W. Heezen, B.A. in mathematics-physics; Daniel M. Lewandowski, B.A. in mathematics-physics; Robert C. Oehmke, B.A. in mathematics-physics; Luke J. Scheer, B.A. in mathematics-physics.

Daniel J. Murphy, B.S. in mathematics-physics; Anthony E. Freeland, B.A. in philosophy; Patrick F. Timmons, Jr., B.A. in political science.

Notre Dame prof in lecture here Feb. 5

Dr. Gerhart Niemeyer, professor of political science at the University of Notre Dame, will deliver a lecture entitled "The Nature of Communism" on Monday, Feb. 5.

His talk will begin at 7:00 p.m. in St. Joseph's college auditorium. It is being co-sponsored by St. Joseph's college, represented by Father John Klopke, and the Ministerial Association of Rensselaer, headed by Reverend Donald Wheat of the Christian Church in Rensselaer.

Dr. Niemeyer studied at the University of Munich and Cambridge university. He studied law and political science in the Institute for International Law at

Fr. Cletus Dirksen is author of new book on social principles

Fr. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., assistant professor of political science at St. Joseph's college, is the author of a new Herder Co. publication, Catholic Social Principles.

The objective of the new book is to present a system of Catholic social principles based on reason and not the authority of the voices of the Popes in their various statements. The book was inspired by Fr. Dirksen's curiosity in this field, and is intended to fill a definite void in the field of Catholic thought.

Author of several earlier books, Fr. Dirksen is also the author of numerous magazine articles, in addition to claiming membership in the American Political Science association and other learned groups.

Fr. Dirksen attended St. Joseph's academy and junior college and St. Charles seminary, Carthage, Ohio. He received his M.A.

FR. CLETUS DIRKSEN

from Catholic university and his Ph.D. from the University of Notre Dame. He also did graduate work at St. John's university, Brooklyn, New York.

Model U. N. sessions find 'solutions' to world problems

By JOHN CATES

In an atmosphere of realism that compared favorably with its New York counterpart, the mock UN Security Council, held here Dec. 10 and 11, discussed and debated four problems presently prohibiting world peace.

An invocation speech by Fr. Dominic B. Gerlach opened the first session of the council, in which over one-hundred students actively participated. Security Council president, George Marchal gave the opening address after which Dave Cunningham speaking for Red China, and Frank Cappel, Nationalist China, presented the opposing arguments for the admission of Red China to the UN.

After general debate the proposal was voted upon and vetoed by Nationalist China, bringing the question of insurgent Cuba before the members.

Political maneuvering heightened when France, through a masterful manipulation, proposed that the handling of the Cuban dispute be given over to the O.A.S., (Organization of American States).

During this first session, Ecuador, asked the council for UN protection because of threatening letters that the Ecuador delegates were receiving while participating in the proceedings. The notes were unsigned. Later in the evening, the Russian delegates were asked to leave the assembly due to their undignified behavior.

The second evening's invocation was given by Fr. Donald F. Shea followed by an announcement by Marchal that there had been an attempted assassination on the delegate from Ecuador.

The U.S., Vince Salvo, then attempted to keep the Berlin problem from the floor by moving that E. Berlin not be allowed to speak. The motion was defeated and Pat Goedert, the E. Berlin delegate, moved that Berlin be made a free city under the management of the UN.

Ecuador amended the proposal to read that the corridors to the city would also be free after which Emil Labbe, W. Berlin, argued against the E. German de-

Campus problems alarm students, prof

Profs fired unjustly: DES

Dear Editor:

At the close of the second semester of this school year the following teachers will be forced to leave St. Joseph's: Dr. Jones, Mr. Farrell, Mr. Phelps and Mr. O'Brien.

Editor's note:—The above statement is erroneous. For the correct status of the individuals mentioned see the revision in the next column.

The choice is not their own. To put it mildly, they are being asked to leave.

Why? Those responsible for this anything but prudent decision to dismiss some of the best profs St. Joe's has ever had have evidently tried to keep the whole affair as quiet as possible. They have so far succeeded to such an extent that even some of the faculty are unaware of the shake-up or the reasons for it.

Why should they attempt to hide their motives? If the "administration" had sound reasons for firing such a large segment of the best of the faculty, one would think that they would not have to conceal their motives.

It has been rumored that this is why:

Recently, as the account goes, one or more profs on campus have been teaching the philosophy of logical positivism unwittingly. Now Mr. Farrell, Mr. Phelps, Mr. O'Brien and Dr. Jones, being responsible people who have the courage to point out a serious fault when they see it and the desire to help correct it, have protested this teaching of logical positivism.

Their own "fault" was to speak out of sincerity. They violated no rules of decorum. They petitioned only those in the administration (whoever they are) who are supposedly responsible for what goes on in the classrooms. Yet their concern reaped them a flat dismissal from St. Joe's, effective at the end of this school year.

Whether or not this is the basic reason for firing these profs, we are not saying. We only repeat what we have heard from a reliable source. We feel that the whole student body would like to know how things stand. We think that they have the right to know. We are asking that we be informed and that our questions be answered.

One thing is certain. If these teachers go, they will not go alone. Many of their equally qualified colleagues will voluntarily leave out of disgust. The work of years put into making St. Joe's a first rate school will in one year come to nothing.

We do not want to see this happen to our school. And we feel that not only the student body but many of the faculty feel the same way.

Yours truly,

Gary B. Madison, president
Gamma Delta chapter of Delta Epsilon Sigma

Richard H. Rosswurm, vice-president
John L. Schudel, secretary-treasurer

Editor's note:—Following is a revision and correction of the above letter issued the day after the original was written.

Dear Editor:

Because of misinformation and "unreliable sources," we officers of Delta Epsilon Sigma were in error regarding the dismissal of professors in our public letter of Jan. 8, 1962. We wish to set the record straight in this regard.

Dr. Jones is not leaving St. Joseph's. Mr. Farrell is leaving voluntarily after the coming semester. And Mr. O'Brien is leaving out of mutual agreement, although he was not given the opportunity to renew his contract.

Yours truly,

Gary B. Madison
Richard Rosswurm

I have resigned: Mr. Farrell

Dear Sir:

An open letter, written by the three executive officers of Delta Epsilon Sigma, appeared on the bulletin boards of this college on January 8, 1962. The letter protested the alleged dismissal of three other professors and myself from the faculty. It would be inappropriate for me to comment on the allegations concerning the others, in a letter which is intended only to deny, categorically, that I have been dismissed from the staff.

While their publication of an open letter on a matter so delicate and complex strikes me as imprudent, I feel compelled to thank the three officers of the Honors Society for their generous tribute to my integrity and teaching effectiveness. Furthermore, I commend them for their forthrightness in putting their names to the letter.

As reluctant as I am to discuss, in public, what are properly my own private affairs, the disturbing effects of the open letter force me to make my present situation perfectly clear.

In February, 1961, I told the Dean of the College that I did not wish my contract renewed beyond the 1961-62 school year because, as I saw it, the College was systematically abandoning the liberal arts in favor of a purely utilitarian course of studies for the sake of satisfying certain megalomaniac impulses. Father Maziarz by no means concurred in my judgement; he agreed, however, that the best course for all concerned was for me to resign, especially in the light of my repeated public criticism of what I termed the Madison Avenue approach to higher education.

Two months after my resignation, I joined several other professors in protesting the teaching of logical positivism in one of our major departments, and urged that our protest be aired in a public debate with the positivists before the faculty. (The offer remains open.) The Administration judged that no good would be served by such a debate, in fact ruled that the question be considered dead.

More firmly convinced than ever that I did not wish to remain in an environment where the critical examination of ideas was no longer the business of the faculty, I decided to pass my final year without further comment. The events of the past month have denied me this welcome solitude. If you will publish this letter, you will do my family and me a great service. Barring retorts in these columns either from college officials, or from those who hold an honest difference with me, I consider the matter closed. As for those trimmers and confidence men whose "inside" stories usually surpass reality itself, let them now speak out publicly, or hold their Christian peace.

Sincerely yours,

James Thomas Farrell
Assistant Professor of English

Student defends ban of 'Twist'

Dear Sir:

Lately, there has been much dissension on the campus over a ruling by the Dean of Men, Father Schaefer. That, of course, is the prohibition of dancing the twist on campus.

Most of the students can see the sexual danger that the dance brings when it is taken to extremes, but they can not understand how the administration obtained the power to forbid the dance on campus. Many students do not realize that certain forms of the twist have been forbidden by the Catholic Church, and that Father Schaefer, being spiritual director on this campus, must comply with the wishes of the Church in such rulings.

Respectively submitted
Frank L. LeMay
Class of '65

Twister calls ban heartbreaking

Editor:

"Social Damnation" seems to be the cry of administrative heads at a small mid-western college located on the outskirts of the thriving metropolis of Rensselaer, Ind. Today, Jan. 7, a heartbreaking decree went forth from the office of the honorable Dean of Men of St. Joseph's college. It reads as follows: "The so-called dance, the twist, is prohibited on this campus at all times, places, and occasions."—signed Rev. D. E. Schaefer, C.P.P.S., Dean of Students.

The reason is unknown to students and, as typical of other laws passed, ungiven.

The circumstance of doing the twist on campus arose when the stylish coeds of Marian college ventured north from Indianapolis to attend a typical small college basketball game between the two schools.

It seems to this writer that Marian college is either lacking in the proper college attitude of study at all times or possibly Purnaville has been indoctrinated in the wrong school of thought. Nowadays students in colleges all over America, upon hearing the vibrant sounds of Chubby Checker rolling forth from juke boxes, naturally begin gyrating their hips, hands and feet. This was the situation which happened here.

The twist, described as putting out cigarettes with both feet at the same time, is held sacred by students like myself. The mocking older folks as I call them need only look back to the day of the Charleston and Blackbottom to contemplate what we students mean by sacred.

A bewildered murmur of a fellow student has come upon my open ears at this moment. "I don't know how a school can come to complete idiocracy as this one has. It seems as soon as the Dean of Students flexes his muscles we all jump." There are many other remarks being made now: "No more twisting U. S. A." and "Good-bye Chubby."

This night, long after lights are out, students will be secretly listening to their phonographs contemplating the day they can get off campus to do the "Twist."

Lynn Weber

Foul remarks shocks moviegoers

Dear Editor:

This letter is prompted by the disgraceful and blasphemous conduct at the Sunday night movie, "Francis of Assisi."

While a young woman knelt before the altar of God praying to know her vocation Catholic students were heard to shout such phrases as "What a waste."

Later, some other Catholic student hooted vulgar ridicule at the solemnity of the woman pronouncing her religious vows.

When such remarks are passed during the presentation of a film on the life of a great saint, we wonder how these animals can call themselves Catholics. Perhaps the whole audience is at fault for not doing something to stop this obscene display. We should all be proud of our faith and defend it when necessary, and not ridicule it.

Sincerely,
Robert Imbur

Reviews at Random Did God err?

By DAN ZAWILA

Sometimes, one wonders if God had made an error in giving man an intellect. Maybe He should have bestowed that special gift upon the animals—St. Francis loved so well. Then, the ivory dove might do more than be a mere symbol of peace, and the lambs might be the shepherds while the shepherds are the flock that need great care.

But, whether the sheep tend the shepherds, or the shepherds tend the sheep, the shepherds still need a great deal of tending, especially when they misuse their precious intellect and ridicule their own faith. The ridicule flowed freely at the movie Sunday night.

While mere human actors attempted to re-live, for us, the humble life of Francis of Assisi, some of us loudly replied with definitely irreverent "backfire." What a shame that man misuses his gift of rationality in this cleverly perverted way called wit.

Lest we forget, almost 2000 years ago, Christ gave us an example of true wit when He softly replied to the Pharisees, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's." Through our retorts on Sunday evening, we rendered irreverence toward the spirit of Sainthood, and hence toward God.

We can only apologize and hope that the scandal caused to some of our fellow students will be forgiven, because some of us did not know what we were doing. It was no longer a matter of "five and twenty-five," it was a matter of deriding one's own faith.

This is not the first time such outbursts have "narrated" the weekend movies. But, it is the first time these outbursts have taken such an irreverent nature. Will they happen again? Such irreverence only portends that something is rotten on the campus of St. Joseph's.

Pumas whip Anderson, Aquinas, Marian, lose to DePauw in ICC

Record at 4-3: no wins in conference

With victories in three of its last four games the Puma hoop squad has pushed its season record to 4-3. All the wins, however, have been against non-conference opponents and all the losses in the ICC. Recent wins were over Anderson—83-77, Aquinas—77-58 and Marian—74-58. Only recent loss was to DePauw 96-66.

On Thursday, Dec. 14 the Pumas, re-fired by overpowering student body support, roared back from a 16-point deficit in the second half to outthrust and outscore Anderson's Ravens, 83-77 in the fieldhouse.

Anderson threatened to pull away permanently in the first half when they opened a 36-26 margin, but the Pumas fought back and trailed by just 43-39 at the half.

Anderson swarmed all over the Pumas again at the start of the second half and opened a 57-41 buldge in the first six minutes.

But from here on the Pumas combined a scrappy defense with the timely shooting of George Post and Jim O'Donnell to slowly whittle down the Ravens' lead.

St. Joseph's caught Anderson at 68-68 and again at the 70-point mark before a Jim Crowley lay-in put them ahead to stay.

Post led the Pumas' scoring with 26 points and was followed by O'Donnell with 20; Art Voellinger with 12 and Crowley with 11.

Leading scorer for the night, however, was Anderson's NAIA All-American forward Ken Strawn who tallied 27 points.

St. Joseph's fast-breaking Pumas pulled away in the second half and raced to a ragged 77-58 victory over Aquinas College at Grand Rapids, Mich., Saturday night, Dec. 16.

The game, featured by many floor-length passes and flurries of ball stealing, saw the Pumas' superior speed gradually wear down the zone and two-one-two defense of Aquinas.

Both teams battled on near-even terms for most of the second half and the Pumas went to the dressing rooms with a 32-28 halftime lead.

St. Joseph's began gradually pulling away at the start of the second half and owned a 47-37 lead with 13 minutes to play. During the next five minutes the Pumas iced the game and opened a 64-44 buldge.

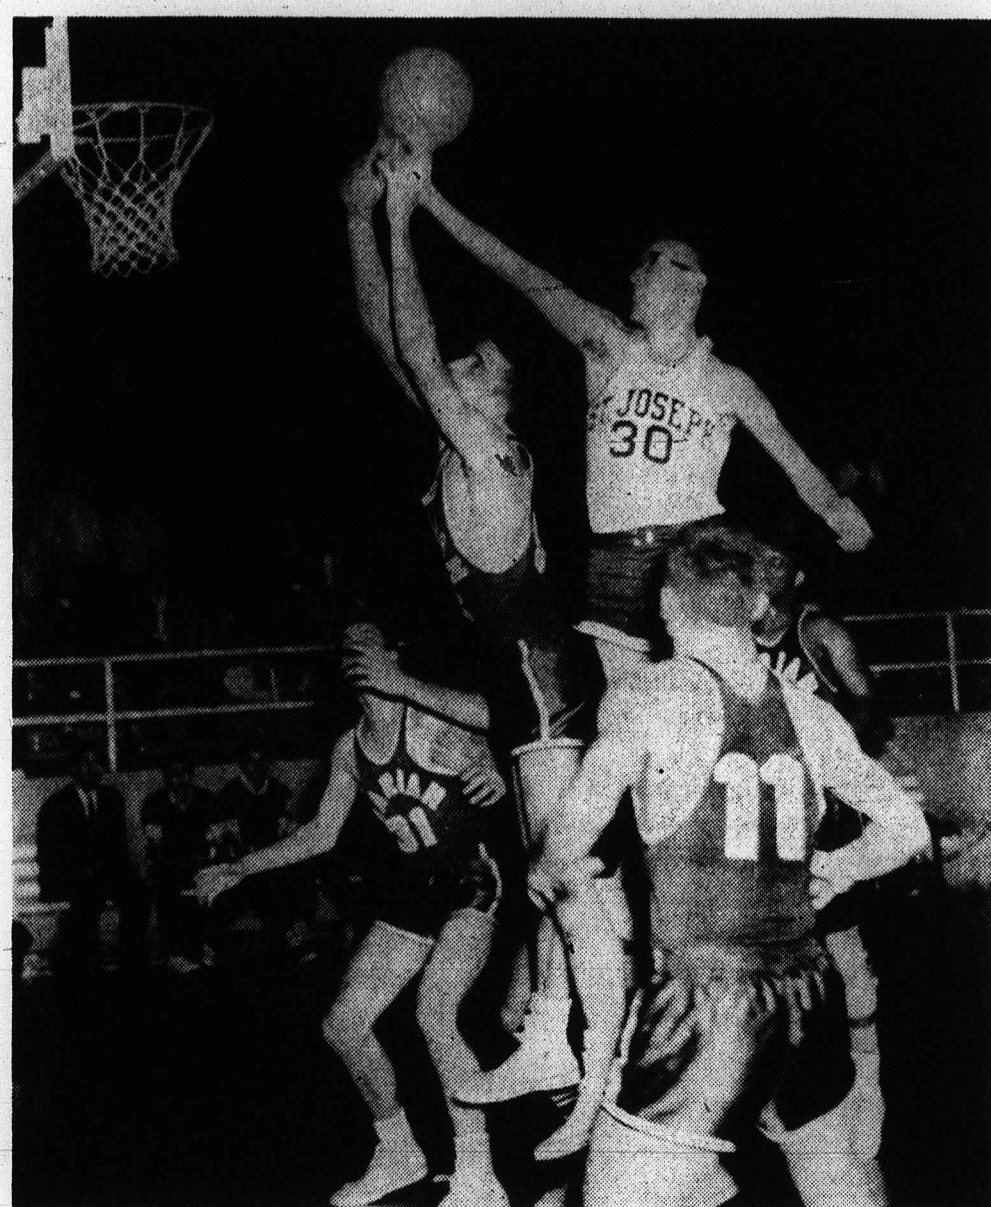

From here on the Pumas coasted to the victory.

George Post led St. Joseph's in scoring with 19 points. Just behind him were Jerry Patchman and Jim Crowley with 17 apiece. Guard Jim Kanary led Aquinas scorers with 19 points.

***

The Pumas lost their third straight ICC basketball game Jan. 3 when they were crushed by the DePauw Tigers 96-66 at Greencastle, Ind. The Pumas, hampered by injuries to Jim Crowley, Mickey Clark and Jim O'Donnell were behind from the start as DePauw shot 54 percent from the field to only 31 percent for St. Joe.

After early lapses, the Pumas

High-jumping Puma Art Voellinger wins battle for rebound during 74-58 St. Joe victory over Marian.

closed the gap to 29 to 23, but from there the Tigers pulled away and led at halftime 51-32. During the second half DePauw substituted freely, but pulled away, mostly on the hot shooting of forward Dale Anderson, 31 points for the game, and Ron Zalewski, 22 points.

Post again led Puma scorers with 16 points. Clark and O'Donnell contributed 12 and 10 respectively to follow, though both played with bandaged legs. Captain Crowley was unable to start due to a leg injury and saw only limited action, scoring three points.

St. Joseph's injury-riddled Pumas pulled away with eight minutes left in the second half Saturday night, Jan. 5, and went on to take a sluggish 74-58 win over Marian's Knights at St. Joseph's fieldhouse in a game in which 45 fouls were called.

George Post's free throw broke a 17-all tie just after the halfway mark in the first half. The Pumas then staged a rally and opened a 35-24 halftime lead.

The Pumas' lead stayed around the ten-point mark during the early minutes of the second half. With just over ten minutes left in the game and St. Joseph's leading, 47-37, the Pumas called time out.

When action resumed, the Puma student body came to their feet to cheer on their team which responded by doubling their lead to 62-42 during the next six minutes.

8 big games face hoopsters as semester ends; five in ICC

The basketball Pumas will be very active between now and Feb. 8 when Stuff is next printed. During that time Coach Holstein's cagers will play eight contests, five against ICC foes.

This Saturday the Ball State Cardinals invade the fieldhouse. The Cardinals are 7-3 in the season and 1-2 in the ICC. All the ICC contests were very close, the Cardinals beating Evansville by 11 and losing to DePauw and Indiana State by five each.

The veteran Cardinal squad is paced by sophomores John Lee, Ed Butler and Jim John, and by vets John Kunze and Mike Readnour. Dan Thurston and Larry Moudy are also regular players. Kunze set a new school record by scoring 34 points in Ball State's 92-81 win over Evansville.

On Jan. 16 the powerful Butler Bulldogs will be hosted in the St. Joe gym. The Bulldogs, playing their usual tough schedule, have pulled their record to over .500 and have lost only to DePauw in the conference.

Starting for the Bulldogs will be Gerry Williams and Dick Haslam at guards, Tom Bowman and Ken Freeman at forwards, and soph Jeff Blue at center, though the Bulldogs are no taller than the Pumas, they are a typical hot-shooting Butler team and a favorite to repeat as ICC champions.

During the semester break the Pumas play three road games. On Jan. 25 they travel to Covington, Ky. to battle non-conference foe Villa Madonna, who beat the Pumas 83-82 in last year's heart-breaking opener. Then, after a return match at Butler Jan.

27 the Pumas battle Illinois Wesleyan, a new team on the schedule Jan. 29. This game will be played in Hammond, Ind. Noll high school gym.

The Evansville Aces, until recently ranked as the nation's number-one, small college team, will appear in the Pumasville gym on Thursday evening, Feb. 1. After a fast start the Aces lost two games in their own holiday tournament, and since have lost ICC games to Ball State and Butler. But they are still a rugged squad, particularly under the boards.

The Aces are led by such men as lettermen Marty Herthel and Marv Pruett, and soph sensation Buster Briley, who is leading the Aces in scoring. In one game this year Briley pumped in 19 of 43 field goal tries and wound up the game with over 45 points.

In an attempt to recover from the 30-point loss at Greencastle last week the Pumas will host the DePauw Tigers on Saturday, Feb. 3. The Tigers are expected to field much the same team that ripped the nets for 54 percent from the field last week. They include center Herb Spier, forward Dale Anderson, who hit 31 against the Pumas, and such other veterans as Larry Leas, Ron Zalewski, Jim Zerface and Ron Salmela.

The Marian Knights will host the Pumas at Indianapolis on the night of Feb. 7. The Knights, who battled the Pumas last Saturday, are led by guard Mike Noone, who scored 31 against St. Joe here. Also playing will be Dick Phillips, Pat Sabelhaus, Pete Dattilo, Steve McCracken and Harry Oldham who saw action here.

Intramural Scoreboard

Eight IM squads are undefeated

By JIM TRAINOR

With the IM basketball season well on its way, the top teams have already established themselves as powers.

In division B of the Upperclass League, the Bennett Celtics, as predicted, are on top of the heap. Led by Dan Ryder's 18.0 average, the closest the Celtics have permitted their opposition to approach them has been 29 points. They have romped past their first four opponents, winning by scores of 74-37, 63-16, 72-28 and 58-29.

With identical records, but possessing not nearly as impressive performances as the Celtics, are the Noll Guzzlers and the Halas Bears. The Guzzlers feel that if the Celtics can be beaten, it might just as well be by them.

In division A, the Gallagher Gaelics (4-0) are leading the pack, closely pursued by the Gallagher Untouchables (3-0). However, the unblemished record of the Gaelics was nearly spotted by the third place Washburn Prefects (3-1).

At the end of regulation play, the Gaelics and Prefects were tied 46-46. With just seconds remaining, guard Phil Zera scored on a 15 foot jump shot to win for the Gaelics in a "sudden death" overtime.

The outstanding single performance thus far this season was given by Tom Fletchall of the Washburn Kongs against the Aquinas On-Pros. He scored 15 field goals and made three free throws for a total of 33 points. His average, by the way, is 25 points per game.

If it isn't East Seifert, it's West Seifert that will dominate IM play. In division A of the Freshman League, West Seifert sports the top three teams. The West Seifert Patricians appear to have already sewed up their division by winning their first seven games. The West Seifert Spartans and the West Seifert Swishers lag far behind with 4-2 and 3-2 records respectively.

In division B, the Gaspar Vigilantes represent the class of their division with an undefeated record of 6-0. However, closely behind are the East Seifert Shepherds with a 5-0 record. The Drexel Trotters, winners of 4 out of 5, are also still in the running.

At this date we have five undefeated teams in the Upperclass League and three in the Freshman League. My guess is that the number will be reduced by the next time this column appears. Very seldom does an IM basketball team complete an undefeated season.

Paul Andorfer and Chuck Clemens won the recent Pinchle tourney when they defeated the team of Jim Hunt and Jim Woods by one point in the final match.

Manchester edges SJ wrestlers by 20-15; Millikin here Friday

The wrestlers of St. Joseph's lost a 20-15 match to Manchester college last Saturday. The loss makes the record of the wrestlers 0-3 for the year.

Winners for St. Joe, all on pins, were captain George Foss, 130 lbs., Dave Fagen, 137 and Tom Blake, 147. In the losers category were 123 pounder Tony Guagenti, Mitch Kaminski, 157, Tom Funk, 167 and Terry Isselhard, 177. Heavyweight Joe Gugliotta wrestled to a draw.

The wrestling squad has lost two valuable men on injuries. Veteran Jim Delaney is out for the year and is coaching a promising freshman squad. Also, Fagen, who had shown great ability this year, is out for the year.

Two of the men who lost Saturday, Funk and Isselhard, were wrestling competitively for the first time. Both put up tough battles before being pinned and are expected to be a great aid to the team.

The wrestlers have two matches at home this weekend. On Friday evening they take on Millikin, and Saturday Indiana Central will provide the opposition. The Puma grapplers will then travel to Lake Forest Feb. 1-2 and take on Ball State here Feb. 3.

mand. After open debate, the proposal was defeated 4 to 3 with 3 abstentions and one member absent.

The U.S. then offered a proposal against any permanent division of the German country with the consideration of a possible plebiscite in the future. This was passed unanimously.

The council moved on to disarmament with Japan, Mitch Kaminski, moving that a timetable for eliminating arms testing be set up to run through 1964. India amended the Japanese proposal asking that the U.N. take the initiative to carry out the plan. China moved that the bill be tabled to a committee, but was overruled by the other members of the council. The original motion was voted on and passed.

Both Russia and E. Germany were asked to leave the second meeting of the council, because of their conduct during the proceedings.

which cut St. Joseph's lead to 66-54 with just 1:15 remaining, but the Pumas hung on and coasted to their 16-point victory.

Although Post with 17 and Jerry Patchman with 16 led Puma scorers, Marian's Mike Noone, who sank 15 of 16 free throws, was the game's high scorer with 31 points. Mickey Clark also tallied 12 points for St. Joseph's.

The Pumas outrebounded Marian, 48-32, led by Patchman with 12 and Clark and Jim O'Donnell with nine each.

St. Joseph's sank 26 of 57 shots from the field for a .456 percentage and 22 of 32 free throws for a .688 mark. Marian hit 18 of 61 field goals for a .295 mark and 22 of 29 free throws for a .759 average.

The Pumas, who now sport an overall 4-3 mark, travel to Indiana State Jan. 9 in search of their first ICC win before returning home to host Ball State Jan. 13.

St. Joe's basketball team lost to Indiana State 93-83 on Tuesday night, Jan. 9, at Terre Haute. The loss gives the Pumas a 4-4 season record, and an 0-4 ICC mark. Guard George Post led the Pumas with 27 points.

Missouri man wins Ohio raffle

Digamma Kappa Lambda members heard final reports on the club's car crunch at the last meeting. Though the event was not too successful financially it did serve to unite the members in their work, and the donor of the car is interested in seeing the same event staged next year, it was reported.

The new club pins are expected about Feb. 9. Cost of the die is being absorbed partly by the members and partly by the club itself.

Feb. 19 and 26 and Mar. 12 were selected as possible dates for a trip to Eli Lilly at Indianapolis. The trip will be for juniors and seniors only.

Mr. Robert Smythe of Kirkwood, Mo., won the grand prize, a $100 savings bond, in the recent Ohio club raffle. Fr. Ralph Bushell won second prize, a shotgun, and senior Jerry Seikel took third prize, a movie camera. The raffle was described as very successful by club officers.

The Accounting club conducted its first money making project this past Monday when it held a cash bingo in the Rec hall. If the bingo proves to be a success, it will be adopted as the annual club project. Other activities of the club during the past semester have included a trip by the senior accountants to a Chicago public accounting firm.

Tentative plans for the second semester now being formulated include movies concerning the accounting field at each meeting, as well as guest speakers to speak to members concerning various opportunities in the accounting profession.
